

Earth Wonders - Trolltunga, Norway

In Norway, there's a magical place called Trolltunga, which means "Troll's Tongue." It's a big, flat rock high up in the mountains that sticks out like a tongue. People go there to see breathtaking views of snowy mountains and a crystal-clear lake below. It's a spot where nature creates amazing beauty, and it feels like a real-life fairy tale! Trolltunga was formed during the last Ice Age, approximately 10,000 years ago.
